Question # 2

List some effective leadership qualities?

Answer:-

Here are a few of the qualities and traits of great leaders that you can learn and practice:

- * Self-assessment
- * Sharp perception
- * Responsive to the group's needs
- * Knowing the organization

Question # 3

What is self assessment?

Answer:-

Knowing your areas of weakness does not make you weak; on the contrary, it allows you to delegate to others who have those abilities, in order to achieve the common goal. Rather than clinging to the false belief that they can do it all, great leaders hire people who complement, rather than supplement, their skills. Working on your areas of weaknesses will improve your leadership ability and recognizing them makes you more human.

Question # 4

Why should a effective leadership be responsive to the group's needs?

Answer:-

Being perceptive can also help a leader be more effective in knowing the needs of the team. Some teams value trust over creativity; others prefer a clear communicator to a great organizer. Building a strong team is easier when you know the values and goals of each individual, as well as what they need from you as their leader.

Question # 5

Why should effective leaders be knowing the organization?

Answer:-

Effective leaders know the organization's overall purpose and goals, and the agreed-upon strategies to achieve these goals; they also know how their team fits into the big picture, and the part they play in helping the organization grow and thrive. Full knowledge of your organization inside and out is vital to becoming an effective leader.

Question # 6

What is sharp perception?

Answer:-

If you really want to know what people think, just ask them. You may receive feedback that you are not listening or showing appreciation as well as you could be. If you have established an environment of honest and open communication, you should be able to ask about your good qualities and the areas you need to improve on. Your staff will appreciate your effort.

Question # 7

How is motivating teams effective skill?

Answer:-

Inspiring others is the mark of an effective leader. Motivation is best done by example and guidance, not by issuing commands.

Question # 11

What is vision and goal setting?

Answer:-

A team depends on its leader to tell them where they are going, why they are going, and how they are going to get there. People are more motivated when a leader articulates his or her vision for a project or for the organization, along with the steps or goals needed to achieve it.

Question # 16

Why should you be decisive?

Answer:-

One of the most basic duties of any leader is to make decisions. Highly effective leaders are not afraid to be decisive and to make tough calls quickly when circumstances require it. Once you have all the information you need to make an informed decision, then do not hesitate make it. And once you make a decision, then stick with it unless there is a particularly compelling reason for you to change it.
