Question # 2

Why is the choice of model agency so important?

Answer:-

Models work very closely with their booking agents and often develop a close professional relationship. In a recent AMA survey, UK models represented by an AMA member agency strongly agreed that their booking agents treated them in a respectful and professional manner, with an average rating of 45 out of 50.

Question # 3

How do models stay healthy?

Answer:-

Models often have very tiring schedules and they need to take of themselves in order to keep up. Models need to take responsibility for their own health and fitness while being supported by the agency who represent them to do this.

Question # 4

Does it cost a lot of money to be a model?

Answer:-

As a model you are self-employed. You need your 'tools of the trade': photographs, index cards, a portfolio, representation on an agency's website etc. If you are not living at home you will need rent for accommodation and money for living expenses and travelling around. A good agent who believes in you may advance some of these expenses and reclaim them over time from what you earn.

Question # 5

Can you be a successful model outside?

Answer:-

There are a few good agents outside. If you join one of them then, once you get going, there is a possibility they may wish to place you with a agency.

Question # 6

Do you have to be tall to be a fashion model?

Answer:-

Yes, If you see someone advertising for models and saying height is not important, don't believe it: they are probably only after your money.

Read More Answers.

Question # 7

Do models get to travel a lot?

Answer:-

Yes. Some assignments are shot on location abroad. Also your UK agent will place you with agents in other capitals, eg Paris, Milan and New York. A spell with one of these can do wonders for your portfolio.

Question # 8

Is there much work around for male models?

Answer:-

Male modelling has changed over the years. Now men are models in their own right rather than just being extras. But it can be harder for the guys - not so many really hit the big time.

Read More Answers.

Question # 9

Can you model bits of yourself - just your face, or your legs?

Answer:-

Not really. All models are supposed to be beautiful and have nice legs! The only specialists are the hand artists - men or women who have beautiful, flawless hands. Sometimes the model's hands you see in the shoot are not the model's own!

Read More Answers.

Question # 10

Could I be a model?

Answer:-

Yes, many young people can model if they have the right agency working for you and guiding you. With your parents (if applicable), approach trusted and representable modelling agencies to ensure that everything is right. Ask to see samples work such as ads and prints. Also ask to see sample of portfolio to ensure if they are from a trusted photographer.

Question # 11

I want my child to be a model. Do they need a portfolio?

Answer:-

If your child is under the age of 5, they general do not need a portfolio. Our standard professional photos shoots will be plenty to create a composition card to promote them to clients. After the age of 5, and if you are really serious in child modeling, it is suggested that you start collecting quality photo and possibly hire a photographer to complete your portfolio.

Question # 12

Why do I need an agent?

Answer:-

Initially the Talent Agent is employed by you (on a commission basis) to find work on your behalf. They negotiate rates of pay and ensure that the terms and conditions of your employment contract are sound. Your agent sends your details to the casting company or producer. The brief may consist of physical specifications (age, nationality, gender, hair colour, etc) as well as experience.

Question # 13

How can I make my body look like a model?

Answer:-

Most believe that in order to become a model, you must be really skinny. Recently in Australia, there has been great concern of the overall health of women in modeling. At IKON, we encourage that our models have a health and natural look by eating a healthy diet and providing exercise tips. See our Classes and Workshop page on health and beauty.

Question # 14

How do I get a modeling portfolio?

Answer:-

To get a modeling portfolio there are a few options. The first is to take them yourself or get friends to take them; however, this is not recommended due to photos looking unprofessional. The other option is to pay a professional to take them for you: advantage: they look good, but the disadvantage is of course is with regard to cost.

Read More Answers.

Question # 15

I want to model, but I have a tattoo. Is this a problem?

Answer:-

This is not necessarily an issue but it does depend on what sort of modeling you want to do. Many types of fashion spreads have models that do have tattoos. In some cases, these ads want models with an edgy look. Also, if the tattoos are small enough, they can easily be covered up. However if you want to be a catwalk model or high fashion, this could be a problem. Most fashion designer do not want their clothes to compete with tattoos. For high fashion, tattoos really do not send the right image when displaying high quality clothes.

Question # 18

What is an open call modeling audition?

Answer:-

An open call modeling event is when an agency basically opens its doors for anyone to walk in and meet the respective agency. These events, you do not need a portfolio; however, you need to have a professional attitude, clean and health look, and properly dresses. For more information see open calls page in become a model or become an actor/extra page.

Read More Answers.

Question # 19

Why do models look better in photo-shoots than in real life?

Answer:-

This is because photo shoots are brilliantly done in order to maximize the positive features of the models. The lighting, the makeup, the clothes, the angles and the sheer number of photos taken will ensure that there are some good photos. Also, in most cases, the photographers have plenty of experiences in capturing great photos. And of course in the last decade or so then the process of airbrushing has enabled any not so good bits to be removed and make the photos even better.

Read More Answers.

Question # 20

How much interest you have in fashion?

Answer:-

One of the most common interview questions in the fashion industry is to ask what your interest is in fashion. The employer wants to know you're serious about pursuing a career in fashion. Companies spend a lot of time and money training employees, so before they make that investment, they want to make sure you're not just applying for a job in the industry on a whim.

Read More Answers.

Question # 21

What is company education?

Answer:-

When you're asked why you want to work for the company, it's your time to shine during your interview. Prepare for this question by carefully studying the job description and information on the company. Before your interview, spend some time on the company's website and learn what ongoing and new projects the company is invested in, what the company's goals are and who the executives are. Recount the information you learned on the company and note how your qualifications could be relevant to the company's goals.

Read More Answers.

Question # 22

What is your career goals in fashion industry?

Answer:-

In a fashion industry interview, you may be asked what your career goals are. Examples of this include being asked where you see yourself in five years and where in the fashion industry you see yourself working. Be honest when describing your career goals. Don't align your goals with the goals of the company unless you truly feel that is the direction that you want to go in.

Read More Answers.

Question # 23

How was your Work Relations?

Answer:-

Fashion industry interviewers want to know how well you handle high stress situations. There are a lot of strong personalities in the fashion industry and the employer wants to know you can handle difficult or sensitive situations. To that end, the interviewer may ask how you handle conflict and to give her a workplace situation where you effectively handled a difficult problem. Make sure to give an example where you took a potentially negative situation and turned it into a positive one.

Question # 24

How to become a fashion model?

Answer:-

I would suggest a few resources from fashion-modeling-online. You can go to the homepage and view the video. You should also look up and call the closest modeling agency to your hometown. Tell them you are interested in becoming a model. They will probably want a few photographs to see what you look like. Make sure you have a headshot picture as well as a body shot.

Read More Answers.

Question # 25

What qualities are required for modeling?

Answer:-

You need to want to be a model and be committed to achieving it! It might sound obvious but it is amazing how many prospective models realize they can't do a shoot for many weeks and then give up. Having the right look and figure is also important but without determination you will not succeed. If you want to be a model then you should always be professional in your attitude. If you provide a phone number or email address you should always return contact promptly.

Read More Answers.

Question # 26

Are there any restrictions for different categories of modeling?

Answer:-

Different types of modeling have different requirements. For example, catwalk has some specific requirements for size. Atleast, You need to be at 5'8" to suit to that type and if you are less than 5'8" it will be extremely difficult for you to model full time. The requirements for glamour modeling are far more relaxed and primarily just a figure that is in proportion.

Read More Answers.

Question # 27

What are the key model portfolio shots that I need?

Answer:-

There are some key shots that you need as a model so that potential clients know what you look like. These include a clear headshot and full height picture. If looking for lingerie and glamour work then this should also include a bikini or lingerie photo.

Read More Answers.

Question # 28

Do I need good quality photos for my modeling portfolio?

Answer:-

Yes! You may be heard that an agency only need amateur photos to judge your potential as a model. This may be true, but these days much promotion of glamour models is done outside of model agencies on the web with online portfolio hosting sites where the best quality portfolio shots will give you an advantage. Your portfolio should show a variety of poses in different styles of modeling you are looking to do, but include a clear head face shot and full length shot to show your figure.

Read More Answers.

Question # 29

Do I need agency representation?

Answer:-

A modeling agency can help you to get work and represent you for potential modeling jobs that are required by clients. However, as a result of the internet, a large number of glamour or nude models now are able to work freelance with their own websites or portfolio hosting sites to generate leads for work. If you are only looking for fashion modeling, work it is highly, unlikely that you could earn sufficient to live on without any agency representation.

Read More Answers.

Question # 30

Why do you offer portfolio test shoots?

Answer:-

We need models for commercial work at our studio and always require new faces for shoots. Portfolio test shoots allow us to find new models that we can then book for future shoots at the studio. We are particularly interested in local models from Kent, Sussex and Essex.

Read More Answers.

Question # 31

I'm interested in glamour modeling, but I am not sure that I am suitable?

Answer:-

There is no specific look for glamour modeling so let us be the judge of whether you are suitable. Some models who initially think that they don't have the right look have turned now to the best models.

Read More Answers.

Question # 32

What types of modeling are available for test shoots?

Answer:-

The type of modelling depends on what you are comfortable doing. Our shoots range from fashion to lingerie and FHM style glamour to page 3 glamour depending on the model. However we have very limited test shoots available and potential models that are more flexible with their styles are more likely to be chosen for a shoot.

Question # 37

How do Model Coach products work?

Answer:-

We believe repetition of video footage is one of the best ways to prepare a model for his/her next professional photo shoot. By looking in on an actual photo shoot, you will benefit from the exact same information that a professional model gets, but at a fraction of the cost of a paid shoot. We want to bring the professional photo shoot experience to you so you can gain the same valuable information and demonstration tips from experienced professionals within the modeling industry. Whether you learn better through watching (visual) or by listening to instruction (auditory) this product can assist you. We have included both methods for each persons learning type.

Read More Answers.

Question # 38

Why can't I just look at pictures from a magazine and practice that way?

Answer:-

Our intention for our ModelCoach products are for the consumer to get the most realistic look at the professional fashion photo shoot experience. By watching the shoot live you are able to see a model move from one movement to the next with the added benefit of a fashion photographer's indispensable instruction. There is nothing else out there that we have found (except an actual photo shoot where you are a participating model) that can give you that. We do like the idea of practicing what you view in our videos either in the mirror or in whichever way you feel most comfortable.

Question # 39

Why do models have to be tall and slender?

Answer:-

For both aesthetic and practical reasons, that's the longtime standard in the modeling industry. A tall, slender body is considered a better "hanger" for a designer's clothes, both on the runway and in front of the camera (which really does add pounds). Clothing samples are cut to fit tall, slender bodies. For girls, that usually means clothes cut in sizes 4 to 6, fitting for a girl with a minimum height of 5 feet 7 inches. For guys, jacket sizes run from 40 to 42 and clothes are designed for who are minimum height of 5 feet 11 inches. Occasionally, an agency will accept shorter models (especially teenagers who wear large shoe sizes and have tall parents, in hopes that they will continue to grow). Some agencies also have divisions for petite and plus-size models, but the client demand is less for those categories.

Question # 40

Why is there an age requirement?

Answer:-

It's a matter of economics. Most models have relatively short careers. Though many work through their late 20s and early 30s, the average "retirement" age is still comparatively young. The earlier a model gets started, the longer he or she can work. For Model Search, girls must be ages 14 to 22 and guys ages 16 to 24.

Question # 41

What other qualities are important?

Answer:-

Good skin. A great smile. Healthy hair. Long legs. A long, narrow torso. Most of all, models need an outgoing personality and a supportive family.

Question # 42

What kind of entry photos work best?

Answer:-

Commercial models come in all shapes, sizes and ages. Some commercial models are gorgeous woman/ handsome men, and beautiful children, and many successful commercial models look just like everyday people. The individual who has the greatest chance of being chosen to appear in an ad is the one who can believably look like a mom, doctor, business person, plumber, student, grandparent, teacher, dad, etc. The best part about commercial modeling is that it is not necessary to have that "perfect" look in order to be successful.
