Question # 2

Explain me what frustrates you the most in a classroom?

Answer:-

This question allows your interviewers to get to know what it takes to ruffle your feathers and how you'll behave when faced with that situation. Find a situation that is fairly common for all teachers and then explain how you've dealt with that frustration. Remember, you want to focus on positive aspects of your teaching style, so if you're still frustrated with a situation and haven't figured out how to work around it yet, maybe don't use that one as your example.

Question # 14

Can you tell us why did you decide to become a teacher?

Answer:-

This is probably the most often asked teacher question which means whoever is interviewing you has probably heard just about every story in the book... Giving a standard "because I love helping people learn" isn't going to cut it here.

You want to give an answer that is heartfelt and genuine and really illustrates why you chose this field. Take time before your interview to really reflect on why you're doing what you're doing. Was there someone in your past who inspired you and you want to pay that forward and inspire others? Draw from specific examples. Make your response thoughtful, genuine, and honest.
