Question # 5

Explain Why is VLAN trunking a security risk?

Answer:-

While physical separation between network segments, VLANs rely on switching should be perfect, if not so, misconfiguration or a bug could cause the VLAN barriers to be broken.

There is a 2 risk

1. packet leaks from one VLAN to another, possibly revealing sensitive information

2. In the second, a specially crafted packet is injected into another VLAN. Any attack that could cause the VLAN barriers to break requires a machine directly attached to the physical network. This means that only a local machine can execute an attack against the switch.
