Question # 34

A piece of clothing will lose $50 if it is sold at a 20% discount after a $200 reduction. if you sell it at a 60% discount, you will break even. if you want to make 100% profit by selling this garment, how much should you add to the original price?

Answer:-

For my askbee student (debra priyanka hendrick) incase if you googled:

20% discount = $50

60% discount = break even (which means no profit or loss)

so,

20% = 50

60% = ?

$(60/20) \times 50 = $150$ (actual price)

= to get 100% profit you need to add another $150 to the actual price.
