Question # 2

Tell us why do you think you are a good fit for a warehouse assistant's position?

Answer:-

I believe that spatial awareness and judgment are the key elements of a good warehouse worker. I possess the ability to communicate effectively with warehouse staff and to ensure that the work gets done. I am experienced in handling labeling, picking and storage activities and I have enjoyed solid relationships with vendors over the years that I have worked in this capacity. I also have five years of experience operating forklifts and possess a current forklift license.

Question # 4

Explain me your vision of your perfect dream job?

Answer:-

Ideally, the role you're applying for either is that dream job or will help you get to it. If it's going to help you get there, describe the elements of that job role that you are passionate about so that it ties to the vision of what your dream job is. Be honest and talk about the type of work environment, management team / leadership, coworkers, culture, vision and products/services you'd like your dream job to entail.

Question # 5

As you know we have a strong employee honesty program in place at The Warehouse to prevent loss. What would you do if you discovered that a co-worker was stealing product or money?

Answer:-

My reaction to employee theft would differ if I were a retail associate or a retail manager. If I were a manager and caught an employee stealing, I would terminate them immediately. If I were an associate, I would report the incident according to company protocol. I would avoid approaching the employee as I would not want to make it a personal issue.

Question # 6

Suppose the change in the business industry now requires you to have a new set of skills you have to learn, how do you react to that?

Answer:-

First, find out which skills are the ones that you're currently lacking. Then identify what the steps would be to acquire/build those skills. Then take action to do so.

Question # 7

Can you consider yourself in the position of handling tools. How would you react if an employee asked for a tool but refused to sign for it? Why would you respond this way?

Warehouse Worker Interview Questions And Answers

Answer:-

Since I would be in a position of extreme responsibility, I would refuse to issue a tool to an employee if he refuses to sign for it. I would also report the said incident to a supervisor. I believe that if an employee does not want anyone to know that he has taken warehouse property, he is either indulging in nefarious activities or using the tool for personal purposes, both of which are not permitted.

Question # 15

Tell us why did you leave your previous job? Why do you want to work for our company?

Answer:-

The warehouse environment that I was working in previously did not offer much challenge since it was a small operation. I felt saturated and it was affecting my efficiency since I had nothing to work up to. Your company offers much in terms of learning and moving up the ladder. I am excited at the prospect of working in a warehouse environment that offers challenges on a daily basis.

Question # 16

Explain me how do you ensure safe stacking of boxes of various sizes and weights on a pallet?

Answer:-

The first thing I do is separate same sized boxes. I then place the bigger and heavier ones at bottom and lighter and smaller ones at the top. As far as sizes are concerned, it is always better to make separate stacks. Where boxes marked as fragile are concerned, I do not stack them. I just place them alongside each other. It is better to make more trips than end up breaking something.

Question # 18

Tell us what do you feel you deserve to be paid?

Warehouse Worker Interview Questions And Answers

Answer:-

Do your research before answering this question - first, consider what the market average is for this job. You can find that by searching on Google (title followed by salary) and glassdoor.com and other websites. Then, consider this - based on your work experience and previous results, are you above average, if yes, by what % increase from your pay today from your perspective? Also - make sure if you aim high you can back it up with facts and your previous results so that you can make a strong case.
